Helping creative entrepreneurs world-wide to become even more successful

Speaking - what clients say...

Clients' comment on David's conference keynote speeches, seminars, lectures and other presentations:

"David was an inspiring guest speaker at the launch of the Creative Entrepreneurs Network in Beijing. As an experienced creative entrepreneur, business adviser and author of 'T-Shirts and Suits' he was an ideal speaker for our network of creative entrepreneurs."

Liang Junhong.

British Council Beijing. China.

"David Parrish was a special guest of Creative Industries Summer School held in Moscow. Creative entrepreneurs from all over Russia said that David's presentation was very inspiring, entertaining and very useful for them. His presentation "Creativity and Business: How to Succeed as a Creative Entrepreneur" was amazing and I am sure it will help develop creative entrepreneurship in Russia. We were very pleased to invite David to Moscow to work with us. David is a very bright and powerful expert. Thank you very much for your very interesting speech!"

"EXCELLENT was the overwhelming response of delegates about David's speech on 'Creativity and Business' at the Shropshire Creative Business Conference."

Delia Yapp.

Shropshire Council. UK

"Enthusiastic, committed, inspiring, good communicator, clear and strategic. David Parrish has all these features!"

Anna Aguiló.

Powerhouse Hub. Mallorca, Spain.

"David's talk at the Creative People Conference was that rare thing, refreshingly open, informative and amusing. I particularly appreciated his frankness about great failures he has known – not least because they made his comments on how to avoid them more pertinent. A very engaging speaker."

Jeanne Jenner.

Chief Executive. Arts+Media Training. UK

"As an interpreter between creativity and business, international adviser David Parrish has developed a very practical and systematic methodology for guiding creative people to run their business. If you want to become a creative entrepreneur rather than a creative worker, David will help you review yourself, and teach you how you can protect your intellectual property and make money while you sleep."

Irene Wu.

Taiwan Design Center. Taipei. Taiwan.

"David's participation in the second edition of 'Encuentro de Economía Creativa - Valparaíso 2010' was very important. His vision expressed both in his conference and workshop with creative project managers was highly valued by the public, who attended in large numbers to hear his presentation and to participate in the workshop. I'm sure his advices will be very useful for the development of creative industries in Valparaíso."

Jorge Rosenthal Navarro.

Creative Industries Valparaíso. Chile

"David Parrish is an inspirational and quietly powerful person. His time with the students was very crucial: Reading is one thing, but listening and talking is an entirely different experience. The Portuguese national media also picked up on his visit which was GREAT for Católica University, the Creative Industries Management Masters team and David of course!"

Michael daCosta Babb.

Universidade Católica Portuguesa – Porto. Portugal.

"Thanks to David's clear and powerful ideas and presence, we've managed to convince "outsiders", from traditional industries, to listen carefully to what's in creative business for them and the regional development strategy."

Felipe Mujica Cominetti.

Creative Industries de los Rios. Valdivia. Chile.

"Great talk. David has a special talent to illustrate complex issues in very easy way, which I find very inspiring."
